April 20, 2019 Update

I'm so thrilled that spring has finally sprung. I made my first journey to the farmers market this morning and to me that is the kickoff for the new season. I came back with loads of new plants and will probably spend this next week finding places in my yard for them. Also feeding my spring frenzy is all the new floral fabric that the UPS guy is bringing us. I am already working on a new quilt using Edita Sitar's Bed of Roses line of fabric. She is now designing for Andover and this line is just luscious! So far I am loving every single piece of it. I can't wait to get it done so I can share it with you.

Terri whipped up this new quilt called Buttonholes using bright fabrics with a Moda black accent.

Deb Johnson's newest pattern is 'Tis Spring. It features super easy piecing with a touch of simple fused appliqué.

This adorable quilt - Dreamland Park - is one I stitched up using the sweetest fabric line. It's Little Thicket from 3 Wishes Fabrics. We also have kits available.

When I saw this new book Stitched So Sweet I couldn't wait to start this little bunny embroidery. Sandy loved the little pillows so she whipped those up. I could absolutely make everything in this book. I love it SO much.

This adorable little Noah's ark fabric, Two by Two came in and we all went crazy over it. It's so cute! Can't you just see an adorable little baby quilt?

Magic Garden by Studio E

Here are several new spring lines that recently came in. They just make me want to stitch up a new quilt to use on the patio—just right for a cool spring evening when the weather is just too nice to go indoors.

April 20, 2019 Update

We are so addicted to the 3 yard quilts patterns. We have many of the patterns made up and Stepping Stones is one of the newest quilts we have gotten finished.

I LOVE this old world map fabric. I think I'm going to take one and put it on stretcher bars, cover it with several layers of fabric stiffener and hang it on the wall as a picture.

This is our first Fabric Collage class using Laura Heine's patterns. The girls are all having a grand time cutting up bits of fabric and fusing them down to create different collage critters. It is so popular that we have scheduled 2 more dates for the class. Make sure to check our CLASS LISTINGS in this newsletter and also our website to see what else we have going on.
