June 15, 2018 Update

With this crazy warm weather the birds in my backyard have been so busy building nests, raising babies, hunting bugs, and now gearing up for baby batch #2. When I heard the theme for this years Row by Row—Sew Musical—I thought of all the music I have at home in my own back yard with all those little birds. This year's design is with them in mind. Row by Row starts this Thursday, June 21 and ends September 4, 2018. Stop in at any shop that is doing the Row by Row and collect their kits. Stitch together a quilt using 8 of the blocks and be the first turn in your finished project at any participating shop to win a fat quarter bundle of 25 fabrics.

Ruth and I have been having a lot of fun playing with the new Mini Wonderful Curves book and ruler. The curved piecing was a breeze to make as the blocks are made slightly oversized and then cut to a perfect size. This was so much fun that we had to schedule a class. The details are in the Class section. Let us know what you think.

This little organizer from Its So Emma has been flying off the shelves. Pick up yours before they disappear. We have several colors available.

June 15, 2018 Update

Kim Diehl's new book Simple Whatnots has so far been a great success. I can hardly keep them in stock. The projects are so cute. Sandi and I have made several of the projects and there are several more in the book we would both love to get started on.

Our Christmas fabric is starting to arrive. Jackie stitched up these vintage looking projects from the book Table Talk.

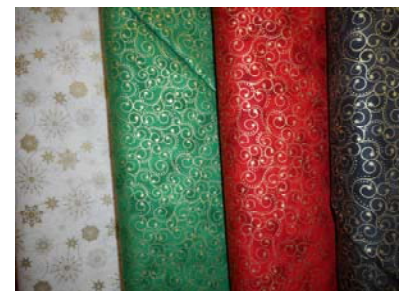

These sew up into the cutest pillowcases too. The pattern is free with fabric purchase.

We have in some pieces of Holly Taylor's new line for Moda.

Would you like to add a bit of glitz to your Christmas projects?

June 15, 2018 Update

Yummy new squishiness just arrived! We got in some new colors of Croft and restocked some of our previous colors that we were out of.

For those of you who would like to knit socks but don't want the wool that is in most sock yarn we have a solution. Tutti Frutti from Schachenmayr is a cotton acrylic blend. I can't wait to get started on a pair of these!

We have a new Block of the Month from Wing and a Prayer Design that will be starting later this summer. Our model kit is not even here yet, but we are already taking a list of names of those interested. Cost per month to make this 108" Tonga batik quilt will be $26.95 per month for 10 months.

I was wandering Pinterest one day and found this little cutie. I thought it would make an adorable Row of the Month. I'm working on the blocks now and it's so fun to use a simple fuse and appliqué method. Sign up now and receive fabric and pattern for 8 months for $23.99 per month.

We have a few new classes scheduled. Check out the schedule.

Don't forget that the Common Threads Quilt Show starts this Thursday June 21 at Century II right here in Wichita. Check our ad in the show book and bring it in for a 20% discount. See you all at the show.
Happy stitching ~Lisa
